

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
Understands the importance of respect for patient autonomy Understands the ethical principles of appropriate patient-physician relationships	Shows respect for patient privacy Elicits patient goals for care, and patient preferences regarding treatment alternatives Demonstrates an understanding of ethical principles, including boundary issues, and consciously applies them in patient care Assesses a patient’s capacity for medical decision making Successfully navigates conflicts between patient preferences that are discordant with their own personal beliefs Counsels patients to prioritize individual presents in treatment decision making	Successfully navigates ethically complex clinical issues involving patient autonomy Balances patient autonomy with ethical and legal requirements in complex circumstances	Successfully leads others through complex and atypical clinical issues involving patient autonomy Longitudinally participates on hospital ethics committee
○	○	○	○

Comments:

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
	Demonstrates a basic understanding of and counsels patients about the effectiveness, risks, benefits, complications, and contraindications of uterine evacuation techniques for abortion Demonstrates ability to perform basic first-trimester uterine evacuation Counsels patients to prioritize individual presents in treatment decision making	Manages complications of uterine evacuation Determines the need for consultation, referral, or transfer of patients with complex complications Demonstrates ability to independently perform first-trimester uterine aspiration and basic second-trimester D&E	Applies innovative and complex approaches to family planning and implements treatment plans based on emerging evidence Manages complex uterine evacuation cases such as for patients with medical comorbidities, uterine or placental anomalies, or advanced gestation. Leads others in the care of patients requiring complex care in uterine evacuation through research, teaching or other scholarly work.
○	○	○	○

Comments:

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
	Demonstrates a basic understanding of and counsels patients about the effectiveness, risks, benefits, complications, and contraindications of medical abortion and induction termination as abortion techniques Demonstrates ability to perform basic first-trimester uterine aspiration abortion and medication abortion Counsels patients to prioritize individual presents in treatment decision making	Manages complications of medication abortion and labor induction termination Determines the need for consultation, referral, or transfer of patients with complex complications Demonstrates ability to independently manage medication abortion and labor induction termination	Applies innovative and complex approaches to family planning and implements treatment plans based on emerging evidence Manages complex medication abortion and labor induction termination cases such as for patients with medical comorbidities or prior uterine surgery. Leads others in the care of patients requiring complex care in medication abortion and labor induction termination through research, teaching or other scholarly work.
○	○	○	○

Comments:

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
	Demonstrates a basic understanding of and counsels patients about the diagnosis of early pregnancy loss, including diagnosis of pregnancy of unknown origin Demonstrates a basic understanding of and counsels patients about treatment options for EPL Counsels patients to prioritize individual presents in treatment decision making	Manages complex early pregnancy loss cases Determines the need for consultation, referral, or transfer of patients with complex complications Demonstrates ability to independently manage early pregnancy loss care Demonstrates ability to independently perform first-trimester uterine aspiration, medical management and expectant care for women with EPL.	Applies innovative and complex approaches to EPL and implements treatment plans based on emerging evidence Manages complex medication abortion and labor induction termination cases such as for patients with medical comorbidities or prior uterine surgery. Leads others in the care of patients requiring complex care in EPL through research, teaching or other scholarly work.
○	○	○	○

Comments:

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
Verbalizes basic knowledge about common contraceptive options	Demonstrates a basic understanding of and counsels patients about the effectiveness, risks, benefits, complications, and contraindications of contraception, including emergency contraception Counsels on the effectiveness, risks, benefits, and contraindications for male and female sterilization Performs intra-uterine and implantable contraceptive placement, and sterilization Counsels patients to prioritize individual presents in treatment decision making	Formulates management plans for patients with medical diseases complicating their use of contraceptive methods Manages complications of contraceptive methods Determines the need for consultation, referral, or transfer of patients with complex complications	Applies innovative and complex approaches to family planning and implements treatment plans based on emerging evidence Manages complex contraception cases such as for patients with medical comorbidities or anatomic challenges Leads others in the care of patients requiring complex care in contraception through research, teaching or other scholarly work
○	○	○	○

Comments:

Incoming Resident	Resident-in-Training	Graduating Resident	Area Expert
Understands the role of physicians in advocating for appropriate women's health care Lists a few areas of medicine that physician advocacy has improved policies about patient care	Demonstrates an awareness of the need for coordination of patient care and patient advocacy Coordinates and advocates for needed resources to facilitate patient care (e.g., effective discharge planning)	Effectively communicates within his or her own hospital/clinic to advocate for patient needs Knows channels through which s/he can advocate for patients through policy change	Participates in advocacy or health care legislation locally, regionally, or nationally Effectively communicates within health care systems to advocate for the needs of patient populations Demonstrates an understanding of the political economics of health care legislation locally, regionally, and nationally Leads others in the care of patients requiring complex care in contraception through research, teaching or other scholarly work
○	○	○	○

Comments: